General C. P. Cabell, deputy director, Central Intelligence Agency—Fidel Castro is not a Communist, however, he certainly is no anti-Communist. His extreme policies, including confiscation of private property, lead him to take positions and make statements much as his violent anti-United States outbursts which are extremely useful to international communism and are being exploited by the Communists to the maximum extent.

Vice-President Nixon. — What we need in those who represent us abroad, whether they are in government, business or education, is dedication to American ideals, understanding of the differences between the principles of communism and of free societies, and a tough-minded, disciplined determination to work longer and harder for our cause than the Communists do for theirs.
